

Modern Languages, Literatures (MLLC)

---

MLLC 223. Modern Languages Seminar in Global Perspectives: Different Identities, Common Destinies. 3 Hours.

A seminar in global perspectives that will explore the diversity and commonality of human experience in preparation for living in a global society. Conducted by faculty in the department of Modern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, and by guest lecturers. Enrollment open to other students by permission of seminar instructors only. Successful completion of this course satisfies the Cultures and Peoples requirement for graduation.

MLLC 280. Selected Topics in Modern Languages, Literatures, & Culture. 1 to 5 Hours.

Selected topics in Modern, Languages, Literatures, and Cultures at the introductory or intermediate level.