

Classical Civilizations (CLCV)

The program in Classical Civilizations allows students to investigate Greek and Roman cultures and their social, political, historical, artistic and intellectual legacy. The program encourages the study of classical antiquity through the offerings of several departments and thus from a variety of disciplinary perspectives.

The program in Classical Civilizations is not a major. Courses applied toward requirements of Classical Civilizations may also be counted toward requirements that will satisfy other programs, majors, or minors.

Program Requirements

Students are encouraged to study abroad with an approved program which offers coursework and travel opportunities related to the classical past.

The Classical Civilizations program requires 18 credit hours. Courses are divided into two groups to ensure that students take a breadth of courses engaging in different traditions and methods of inquiry. A maximum of 9 credit hours may be earned in any one discipline.

Course	Title	Hours
Group A: Art, Literature, Philosophy and Religion		6
Select two courses from the following:
ARTH 201	History of Western Art I
ARTH 301	Ancient & Classical Art
PHIL 351	Ancient Western Philosophy
PHIL 358	Ancient Cosmology & Worldview
REL 202	The New Testament
REL 301	The Historical Jesus
REL 310	Lost Christianities
REL 315	Archeology and the Bible
THEA 438	Greek & Roman Drama
Group B: Government and History		6
Select two courses from the following:
GOV 391	Classical Political Thought
HIST 330	Rome in the Late Republic
HIST 331	Periclean Athens
HIST 332	The Early History of Rome
HIST 333	The World of Alexander the Great
HIST 334	The Roman Empire
HIST 335	Warfare in the Ancient World
HIST 340	The Early and High Middle Ages (400-1200)
Electives		6
Select 6 additional credit hours from Groups A and B
Total Hours		18