French (FREN)

French is part of the Department of Modern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures. Both a major and minor is available in French and Francophone Studies which focuses on both language skills and and cultural aspects.

Special Considerations

Students who directly enroll in and complete a 300-level French language course with a grade of 'C' or higher may be awarded credit for 201 and 202 courses provided they have not previously earned any lower division credit in that particular language.

Students who earned/received credit for a higher level French language course may not take or repeat a course at a lower level and receive credit for that course.

Requirements for the Major in French and Francophone Studies

Students majoring in French are required to complete a semester of study abroad in a country where the French language is spoken, taking a majority of courses in French in a program approved by the language major advisor. In rare instances, exceptions to this policy may be granted, at the discretion of the faculty of the program, through a waiver process administered by the Coordinator of the French program.

FREN 280. Selected Topics in French. 1 to 4 Hours.
The study of selected topics, at the introductory or intermediate level, in French.

FREN 303. Advanced French. 3 Hours.
Advanced French language course designed to move the student toward content-based courses. Topics focus on: refinement of listening and speaking skills, reading French, and oral and written communication. The course stresses improvement in the ease and richness of expression, as well as intercultural competency. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 202 with a minimum grade of C-.

FREN 304. The French World: France. 4 Hours.
A discovery of France and its social and cultural institutions through a study of contemporary issues and of differences and similarities between American and French histories, philosophies, policies, and trends. Strong emphasis on intercultural competence. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 306. The Francophone World: Global South. 4 Hours.
A decolonial approach to exploration of French-speaking regions of the Global South. Topics may include the Maghreb, Sub-Saharan Africa, the Indian Ocean, French Polynesia, and the Caribbean. This introductory course to Francophone Studies focuses on key historical moments, indigenous histories and myths, plurilingualism, and cultural practices. Conducted in French. Successful completion of this course satisfies the Cultures and Peoples requirement for graduation.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 308. Introduction to French and Francophone Literatures. 3 Hours.
An introduction to the literatures of France and the French-speaking world. Topics include: reading techniques that appreciate style, syntax, and rhetorical devices from the Renaissance to the 21st Century. Diverse literary genres and authors are studied with an emphasis on the historical, social, and cultural contexts of the chosen works. Students will acquire academic writing skills in French. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 309. Advanced Composition. 3 Hours.
Improve written expression in French in a variety of genres and registers from formal argumentative papers to creative works of fiction. Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 310. French Novel. 3 Hours.
Readings from selected texts that represent the evolution of the French novel. Attention is paid to technique and style, with emphasis also on the historical and social importance of each novel. The student also becomes familiar with a substantial corpus of critical literature. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 308 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 311. French Poetry. 3 Hours.
Study of a variety of texts from representative poetic movements from the 17th century through the 20th century. Emphasis is placed on poetry as a social and historical document and close attention is also paid to the evolution of poetic structure and technique. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 308 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 421. French Film Seminar. 4 Hours.
A study of French film as an art form. Using a representative sample of films as ‘texts,’ the course considers narrative processes, representational modalities, and the language of film (cinematographic techniques and devices). Other topics of consideration may include the contrastive analysis of literary and cinematic fictions; the cinematic depiction of social and cultural realities (film as cultural mirror, film as propaganda); the historical development of a national film industry; and the director as auteur. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 308 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 440. The Art & Craft of Translation. 3 Hours.
Discuss and practice the craft of translating various genres of written French texts into English and the reverse. Theoretical and practical aspects of translations will be addressed as well as the creative writing aspect of translation and its cross-cultural and linguistic implications. Conducted in French and English.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 441. Advanced Composition. 3 Hours.
Improve written expression in French in a variety of genres and registers from formal argumentative papers to creative works of fiction. Continue to develop skills to write sophisticated and accurate French on complex topics, and read authentic texts written in French with increasing ease. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.
FREN 442. Oral Proficiency: Conversing and Interpreting in French.
3 Hours.
A practical approach to speaking French. Using a wide variety of spoken samples for listening practice and role-play tasks for speaking practice, the course examines the functions and contexts of oral proficiency levels from intermediate to superior abilities. The course also considers techniques of oral assessment and the nature of professional interpreting as a career. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 443. French Phonetics. 4 Hours.
An introduction to the nuances of French pronunciation, the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA), and its application to problems of correct phonetic utterance. Students focus on pitfalls of pronunciation for native speakers of American English, transcribe French sentences to and from IPA, refine their listening comprehension and oral expression. Conducted in French and English.
Prerequisite: FREN 303 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 444. French for Professional Fluency. 3 Hours.
Refine linguistic skills and cultural knowledge through an exploration of Francophone professional cultures. Includes a focus on cross-cultural differences in Francophone workplaces. Professional domains of study include the Arts, Law, NGOs, Healthcare, Trade, and the Hospitality Industry. Conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 304 with a minimum grade of C or FREN 306 with a minimum grade of C.

FREN 480. Advanced Topics in French. 1 to 4 Hours.
The study of selected topics at the advanced level in French.
